

A Global World

The international monetary fund (IMF) works closely with African countries to create jobs, promote growth in various sectors, encourage sound environmental practices by going green and helping people by building stronger economies.